HORRORS SEEN BY MORGENTHAU

Stories of Armenian Butchery
Not Exaggerated—Ambassador Tells What He Saw.

Cincinnati, Ohio, May 21.—United States Ambassador Henry Morgenthau in an interview gave as one of the main reasons for his resignation as ambassador to Turkey his great desire to make known to the people of the United States some of the conditions in the Turkish empire, especially as they affect the long-suffering Armenians. He wants to assist in the raising of funds for Armenian relief, to explain the real conditions in Turkey and to make known in a tactful way to the American public the thoughts of the American public on the conditions in that land.

Referring to the tragic sufferings of the Armenians and of the need of immediate help to save thousands of men, women and children from dreadful death by starvation, Mr. Morgenthau said it is difficult for him to discuss the subject, which appeals so strongly to his sympathies, because his resignation as ambassador has not been definitely accepted, but speaking in a guarded way he made the following statement:

"In my childhood I cried over 'Uncle Tom's Cabin,' and wept at the way the negroes were sold into slavery. Later on I read 'Evangeline,' and my heart went out to the poor woman and her lover; but all of these things are nothing compared to what went on in Turkey under my own eyes. I do not want to give too many harrowing pictures, and it will not be wise for me to go into details, but I will say that I have been requested to state that most of the stories that have reached United States are founded on facts.

Based on Facts.
"The Armenians were living just as quietly and peacefully as possible, in friendship and close contact with their Turkish associates, when suddenly they were picked out to be deported.

SMALL ERUPTIONS ITCH AND BURN

On Forehead. Skin Red and Inflamed. Irritating. Disfigured
Face. In Short Time

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"Some time ago small eruptions appeared on my forehead which proved very annoying to appearance and also to comfort. The appearance of the breaking out was a very dense rash, the skin being both red and inflamed. The breaking out would at times itch and upon scratching it, it would burn. It was certainly irritating and disfigured my face.

"I wrote for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The sample afforded almost instant relief so I bought more and in a short time I was healed." (Signed) Miss Daisy Austin, R. R. No. 1, Box 58, Walla Walla, Wash., July 1, 1915.

SENSATION AT IRISH MEETING

James Larkin Jumps From Stage and Chokes and Shakes a Spectator.

Chicago, May 21.—James Larkin, the Irish labor leader and founder of the Irish "citizen army," who has been living in Chicago for some time, leaped from the stage of a downtown theatre today and attacked Matthew Thomas Newman, a spectator, who had protested at some remarks regarding the measures taken by England to suppress the recent uprising in Ireland.

The disturbance came during the preliminary stages of a mass meeting called to protest against the execution of James Connolly and thirteen other Irish revolutionists. Larkin choked and shook Newman and then escorted him from the hall. In his address, Mr. Larkin stated that the Irish revolutionists were assisted by Angela Spring-Rice, sister of Ambassador Spring-Rice, who represents Great Britain at Washington. Three rifles were stacked on the stage. Mr. Larkin dramatically held one of them aloft.

"Perhaps you don't know who brought this kind of rifle into Ireland," he said. "Of course, you don't, because the press has never told you. Well, it was Angela Spring-Rice, sister of Ambassador Spring-Rice. It was she who smuggled them in to us."

In the Divinsk region and north of Lake Miedziol, the Germans are using explosive bullets.

"In the Caucasus our troops continue their advance in the direction of Mosul."

Berlin, May 21, via London, 4:45 p. m.—More than 1200 French soldiers, including 31 officers, 18 machine guns and eight cannons were captured in a new German assault on the Verdun front in the region of Dead Man's Hill, the war office announced today. The statement says the German lines were advanced on the south and southwest slopes of the hill.

The communication follows: "Western front: On the south and southwest slopes of Dead Man's Hill our lines were advanced after effective artillery preparation. Two officers and 31 men were taken prisoner, and, in addition to other war material, sixteen machine guns and eight cannons were captured.

East of the Meuse: It has been ascertained that the French attack with hand grenades in Callette wood on the night of May 20 was repulsed. Minor expeditions west of Beaumont and south of Gondrexon were successful.

"Near Ostend (Belgium) a hostile aeroplane was brought down by the fire of our anti-aircraft guns and fell into the sea. Four other machines were shot down in aerial encounters. Two fell within our lines and the remainder in the enemy's lines.

"Enemy aid squadrons dropped bombs freely on Dunkirk during the night."

AMERICANS IN THE WAR ZONE

They Are Given Higher Honors by Aviation Corps of the French Army.

Paris, May 21, 11:21 p. m.—Corporal Kiffin Rockwell of Atlanta, Ga., a member of the Franco-American flying corps, has been proposed for promotion to the rank of sergeant, for a reward for bringing down a German aeroplane near Hartmanns-Werkelkopf on May 18. He will be decorated with the military medal.

Corporal Victor Chapman of New York has been proposed for promotion to the rank of sergeant for his pursuit of a German machine that flew over the aviation camp seeking revenge for Corporal Rockwell's exploit.

Lieut. William K. Thaw of Pittsburgh is proposed for citation for pursuing a second German machine from the camp, continuing the flight at close range until his machine gun jammed. Lieut. Thaw also is credited with forcing down another German machine, probably to destruction, but it has been impossible to verify this officially.

Corporal Rockwell engaged his opponents at close quarters. He swooped down upon the German aeroplane, facing machine gun fire as he approached. He waited until he was within 30 yards of the German machine and then opened fire. At his fifth shot the gunner of the German machine tossed up his hands and fell over the pilot who also crumpled up as the machine began to plunge downward, in flames, to the German trenches near Uffholtz. After it crashed to the ground, it continued to burn.

Two German aeroplanes flew over the Franco-American camp on the following day and dropped a bomb which exploded within ten yards of the machines, but caused no damage. Corporal Chapman and Lieut. Thaw took to the air and the Germans fled. One, escaped in the haze. Lieut. Thaw caught the other at a height of 3200 yards and exchanged several volleys at close range. Then his gun jammed and he was obliged to desist.

NINE KILLED IN GREAT TORNADO

Texas and Oklahoma Swept
By a Most Destructive Wind Storm.

Denison, Tex., May 21.—Nine persons were killed and 38 injured and Kemp City, Okla., eight miles east of Denison, was wiped out by a tornado which last night swept a path three-quarters of a mile wide and five miles long in the Kemp City section.

Twelve business houses, a two-story hotel, and 60 residences were demolished in Kemp City. This was the second time in recent years that the little town of 300 inhabitants has been visited by a tornado.

Eight of the dead were killed in the town, while the other victim, a child, was killed in the collapse of its father's home just across the Red river in Texas.

The dead: MR. AND MRS. E. E. COX, DR. AND MRS. WILLIAM BRINSON, CHANEY BATTLE, cashier of the Bank of Kemp.

W. T. THOMAS, ARTILE PLEASANT, MRS. J. W. HIVELEY, Six-year-old daughter of J. J. McCulloch.

Of the 38 persons injured, 36 are residents of Kemp City. Two daughters of McCulloch were hurt at the time their younger sister was killed in the McCulloch home, five miles east of Denison. Most of those injured were caught in the collapse of buildings or while trying to reach storm cellars, shortly after the storm broke at 9:23 p. m., Saturday.

The bodies of the victims in several instances were found hundreds of yards from where their homes had stood.

The tornado played the usual freakish tricks of such a storm. The two-year-old child of Dr. and Mrs. Brinson, who were killed, were hurled five feet with flying debris when the Brinson residence was destroyed and the child suffered only minor injuries.

After the storm passed emergency treatment was given the injured in complete darkness and with the rain falling in torrents. A special train carrying 12 physicians from Denison, did not reach Kemp until several hours after the tornado passed.

RUSS CAVALRY JOINS BRITISH

Suddenly Appears on Tigris, But No One Knows How the Feat Was Accomplished.

London, May 21, 9:20 p. m.—A force of Russian cavalry has joined the British army on the Tigris, in Mesopotamia.

An official communication issued tonight concerning the situation along the Tigris follows:

"General Lake reports that on the 19th the enemy vacated Bethaladesia, advanced position on the right bank of the Tigris. General Carrington following up the enemy attacked and carried the Dujailam redoubt. The enemy is still holding the Sannayyat position on the left bank of the river.

"A force of Russian cavalry has joined General Gorrings after a bold and adventurous ride."

Turks Still Hold Tigris.

The first news of the operations on the Tigris since the fall of Kut-el-Amara, sent today by Lieutenant General Sir Percy Lake, commander of the British forces in Mesopotamia, although it shows that the Turks are still holding the Sannayyat position along the left bank of the Tigris, where the British check made it impossible to carry out the relief of General Townshend, brings the welcome, but astonishing intelligence that a body of Russian cavalry, after an adventurous ride, has succeeded in joining General Gorrings' forces on the south bank of the Tigris.

How this important junction was effected is still unknown, and the story will be awaited with intense interest. The supposition is that this detachment came from the Russian army, which is threatening Kharikan, but it still remains a puzzle where and how the Russians succeeded in crossing the river.

Their sudden appearance with General Gorrings also has raised the question whether the Russians have already cut the Baghdad railway at Mosul. In any case, the unexpected appearance of this body of cavalry is as great a surprise as was the first landing of the Russian troops at Marasli and is another instance of the swift and stealthy movement of the Russian forces in Asia Minor.

CHASERS BURGLAR IN HIS NIGHT CLOTHES

Salt Lake, May 22.—Clad only in his pajamas, F. Pasini, a cigar-maker, chased C. Clark, 23 years of age, a colored waiter, from his room at 367 West South Temple street at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, pursuing the negro nearly two blocks in the open street, and, finally, with the assistance of citizens and two officers, overpowering the man, who fought desperately.

Clark is held in the city jail charged with burglary, and a complaint will be filed against him today.

Pasini arose yesterday morning and went into his washroom. He heard someone open the door of his room and returned to find the negro there. Clark knocked Pasini down and fled downstairs, but the cigar-maker sprang to his feet and gave

PROGRESS MADE BY THE WORLD

Rev. Edwin A. Waldo, who is occupying the pulpit at the First Congregational church, in the absence of Rev. F. G. Brainerd, delivered an interesting sermon at the morning meeting yesterday. In part, he said:

"Possibly history is making no more rapid progress today than in years and centuries past. Perhaps we are witnessing, in our day just the influence of separate streams that have been long-time tending this way. However, that may be, the ease of communication with all parts of the world has the effect of creating in the sense of the unity of mankind, the oneness of the great world-soul which finds in universal history its theater of life and action.

"We must need go beyond the individual with his separate needs and think of the great social life into which all individuals are in some way gathered together and blended into one, so that their related activities make out what may be called the world's life, their thought, the world's mind, their strivings and longings, the world's conscience and the world's hope.

"When we think of mankind as gathered into the flow of a single current, engaged in solving problems that appertain to the entire race, we are doubtless getting in line with the divine method of contemplation.

"It is a great thing for the human mind to have this broad outlook. It is a great thing for the human mind to have this attitude of mind we will regard with deeper interest and more devout thought the scenes that are now being enacted upon the stage of the world's life; for whether or not we get at the exact meaning of the events, they are the portrayal of sentiments, and they discover to us a wisdom that reaches all the way from the beginning to the end of creation.

"Progress in every plane is purchased by struggle. The strong grow stronger by the defeat of the weak. It is the law of God's order that what is good is to become better by conflict, that the acorn on its way to MANAGER RUSSELL TO QUIT D. & R. G.

Well-defined rumors are afloat to the effect that James Russell is soon to tender his resignation as general manager of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad and that likely he will be succeeded by F. R. Rockwell, assistant general manager in charge of the Utah lines. No official announcement of the change has been received here, however. Mr. Rockwell has been in Denver several days in conference with the general officials of the road.

According to the rumor, Mr. Russell is soon to go east as a member of the board to confer with the representatives of the railroad brotherhoods on the proposed change in working hours and rates of pay. It is understood that this work will require his attention probably two or three months, after which he is to take a position with another line. The position or the line with which it is rumored he is to take service have not been named.
